THE EXAMINATION

2.1 Testing Procedures

Once you are seated at the examination computer, the process will be as follows:

Non-Disclosure Agreement

- Before beginning the examination, you will be REQUIRED to agree to a confidentiality clause stating that you will not share the content of the examination.

Tutorial

- An introductory tutorial covering how to move through the computer-based test will be provided before the examination time begins.
- Fifteen (15) minutes are allotted for the tutorial. This time does NOT count against the examination time.
- Sample questions are included following the tutorial so that you may practice using the keys, answering questions, and reviewing your answers.

Examination

- Each question will be shown on its own screen.
- You may move back and forth between questions.
- You may review your answers at any time during and after the examination, provided there is still time remaining.
- Minutes remaining will be displayed on the screen.

Post-Examination Survey

- An optional candidate satisfaction survey will be presented after completion of the examination. This data is used to continually improve the examination process.
- There is a space for notes in the survey for any comments you have regarding the testing process and/or individual examination questions.

Preliminary Score Report

Your preliminary score will be given to you immediately following completion of the examination. Psychometricians continuously review DOH examinations in order to ensure fair, accurate, and consistent testing. Scores may be changed after expert review if they find a technical problem, misconduct, or unusual pattern in the exam question responses. This means that your preliminary score report may not reflect your true score. This preliminary report is intended to give you a general idea of how you scored, but is not official or legally binding, and cannot be used to gain licensure or employment. Official examination results can be obtained from the Program Office.

The following summary describes the preliminary score reporting process:

- On Screen - your preliminary score will appear immediately on the computer screen. This will happen automatically at the end of the time allowed for the examination; if you are using review features, you will be able to obtain your score immediately when you indicate that you have finished and would like to see your results.
 - If you pass, you will immediately receive a successful notification on the screen.
 - If you do not pass, you will immediately receive an unsuccessful notification on the screen.
- On paper - a preliminary score report may be printed at the examination site.

2.2 Content Overview

- You will be given two (2) hours to complete the examination. Not including the 15 minutes allotted for the tutorial portion.
- The examination consists of one hundred (100) scored multiple-choice questions.

2.3 Pilot Testing of New Questions

The examination may contain a small number of experimental or “pilot” questions. The purpose of including pilot questions within the examination is to expand and improve the bank of questions from which future examinations will be drawn. This is a common practice used by many national and state examination programs and is a critical step in ensuring the continued reliability and validity of these examinations. In the event that pilot questions are included within the examination, these questions will NOT be counted when computing scores. The time allowed for testing has been evaluated to ensure there is adequate time for completing test questions and pilot questions. Pilot questions are NOT identified. If the pilot questions were identified, many of the candidates would skip them and the results would not be valid. The development of a good examination required accurate candidate response information for the pilot questions.

SCORING INFORMATION AND SCORING NOTIFICATION

3.1 Scoring Procedures

You must obtain a score of 80% or better to pass the examination.

The grading process includes a statistical analysis of the examination. The statistical analysis and review are done prior to release of the scores by the Department of Health in order to ensure the accuracy of all examination results.

3.2 Notification of Results

At the end of your computer based examination you will receive your preliminary score report. When you check out, the Proctor will print a copy of this report for you.

Official scores will be sent to the candidates by the Program Office.

- Score results CANNOT be given out over the telephone.

3.3 Irregularity Analysis

The Department reserves the right to perform statistical analysis on the scores to determine the likelihood that the security of the examination has been compromised. In the event that the analysis indicates a security problem, the scores of those affected will be held and a report will be submitted to the Program Office for review.

POST-EXAMINATION PROCEDURES

4.1 Passing Candidates

Candidates who pass the examination will receive additional licensure information from the Program Office.

4.2 Failing Candidates

Any candidate attempting to obtain certification, who fails the examination, will be required to retake the examination in order to become eligible for certification in the State of Florida.

Any candidate, who fails the examination, is provided the opportunity to review the examination questions answered incorrectly and the answers for the examination questions answered incorrectly. A post-examination review is NOT required and does NOT alter a failing score in any way. See Florida Administrative Code Rule 64B-1.013, for rules regarding post-examination reviews.

All requests for post-examination review must be received within twenty-one (21) days from the date that official scores are released. Reviews will be completed within sixty (60) days after the official score release date. If you choose to exercise your right for a post-examination review, it can be up to ninety (90) days from your examination date before you may retake your examination.

Candidates reviewing the examination will be provided with a clean, exact copy of the questions they missed. Candidates will NOT be given the question they answered correctly. Generally, candidates are granted half the original testing time for the post-examination review. The same security requirements observed at the examination will be followed during the review process. The reviews will be conducted during normal business hours on a date designated by Prometric. If a candidate arrives late for a post-examination review appointment, they will not receive extra review time. Candidates may NOT bring anything into the post-examination review session. No talking is allowed during the post-examination review. No examination materials may be removed from the review site. Any observance or evidence of a candidate attempting to copy or remove test items, questions, booklets, or other examination material will be fully documented in writing.
